Acco golfers will get a chance to tee it up for the Tri-City Area YMCA's 12th annual golf classic Aug. 13 at the Legacy Golf Club.

The tournament, a four-person scramble sponsored by the Tri-City YMCA, DonTech, Tee Up Golf Center and the Legacy, will feature a $1 million hole-in-one Shootout for the second straight year. Golfers who qualify for the Shootout will compete for a set of Ping golf clubs and an ace during the competition is worth $1 million.

Other sponsors are DonTech, Pro Tee Driving

Range, Tee Up Golf Center and Domino's Pizza. All proceeds benefit the Tri-City Area YMCA youth programs.

This year, tournament officials have increased the number of qualifying dates to four at three area driving ranges: the Legacy, Tee Up in Fairmont City and Pro Tee in Wood River. The first qualifying date is 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Aug. 6 at the Legacy.

During each qualifying date, entrants will be given six balls to hit for $5. An ace automatically qualifies a participant for the Shootout. A shot that arrives within a 5-foot radius of the cup counts a trip to the Shootout, which will be held at the Legacy prior to the Shootout at 4 p.m.

Madison budget shows slight rise

By Hilley Schutte
Staff writer

With a $190,000 increase in appropriations compared to last year, Madison City Council Thursday unanimously adopted a budget for the fiscal year that began May 1 and ends next April 30.

Following a public hearing about the budget, and after a misunderstanding concerning library appropriations was cleared, the council appropriated $2,930,587 in estimated expenditures.

Last year, a total of $2,740,592 was appropriated. But in December of 1993, anticipated revenue was $1,966,921, almost a million dollars short. Getting the city of Madison on some higher ground this year will be the sale of the Hulme Steel Inc. building at about $500,000.

After six months of negotiation, the sale is currently being wrapped up. Hulme Steel will purchase the building it currently leases from Madison.

During the public hearing on the budget, Louise Kerns, Madison Library staff director, questioned the $61,875 appropriated for library services. She did not list funds for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund (IMRF), health insurance or social security for library employees.

James W. Widmer, Madison comptroller, explained to Kerns that funds for those items are listed under a group line and that, in that respect, library employees are paid as city

Haine cracks down on deadbeats

Publicity plan failed in county

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Department of Public Aid's campaign to publicize deadbeats who have skipped child support payments has been less than successful in Madison County.

Of the 10 names released for Madison County in May, none of the individuals has made up any payments so far, department spokesman Dean School said.

State officials asked the news media to publish the names of people who they said had in many cases deliberately skipped child support payments to evade paying child support. Everywhere to be displayed seeking help from the public on finding the "deadbeats."

Gov. Jim Edgar called a news conference in Chicago to announce the list, and news media throughout the state picked up the story.

"Just putting out names without further (See PUBLICITY, Page 10A)

The list of excuses has apparently run out for the handful of alleged deadbeat dads headed for the slammer.

And at least one Granite City mother is pleased with the situation.

The Madison County State's Attorney's office has issued warrants for nine men, including two from Granite City — who have allegedly failed to pay child support in the past two to 15 years.

"We have begun to target more aggressive cases where parents wilfully neglect to pay child support," State's Attorney William Haine said Wednesday. "We are targeting those who have the assets and ability to pay but refuse to do so. These are our most extreme cases."

Nine arrest warrants were issued Wednesday charging neglect to support a child.

The nine men have 18 children among them. The prosecution complaint was filed for each child involved, each charge carrying a bond of $10,000.

The warrants are the first issued in Madison County for failure to pay child support.

Haine said additional warrants might also issue.

"Anyone who is not there will be held in contempt," he said. "Anyone without a valid excuse fails to provide support will be charged with a Class A misdemeanor.

"If we prove they have the ability to pay, the courts can fine them up to $1,000, send them to the county jail and order them to pay back-support," Haine said. "We have exhausted other measures and it's time for these people to abide by the law."

Warrants have also been for the arrest of Charles Ragan, 28, of Granite City; Andrew Jones, 35, of Granite City; Michael Ridder, 41, of Alton; Michael Clegg, 30, of Edwardsville; Marty Byrd, age unavailable, of East Alton; Timothy Manners, 45, of Wood River; Wilbert Matthews, 45, of Collinsville; Charles Gilles, 34, of Marion; and Charles Davis, 48, of St. Louis.

Juanita Pickett of Granite City said that Ragan owes her about $7,000 in payments to help support their two children, Brianna, 3, and Brandon, 5. She said she thinks that Haine's office is taking a tough stand.

"It's about time. I've written congressmen, the president, everything I can think of to get this done," she said.

Ragan said Ragan recently moved to Florida.

"He doesn't have the money. He don't see them. He don't call them. Brianna doesn't even know him. He didn't even bother to tell them goodbye when he left. That's what really bugs me."

Haine's office collects and distributes more than $4.2 million in child support each year. It also assists in collecting more than $200,000.

Pontoon man kills clinic director, self

A Pontoon Beach man who gunned down a health clinic director killed himself Friday night, his estranged wife and his counselor to throw him out of the methadone program, Inman said.

"One day (about 10 days ago), he had a gun up there wrapped up in a jacket," said a 38-year-old client of the Community Counseling Center of Northern Madison County, who requested anonymity.

"He said he brought it to show someone. He said, 'This is my baby.'

"He had some type of grudge against them."

He had been fired from the methadone program, director Judy Miller, 45, of Berkley. Miller and Duane Honchak, 37, were pronounced dead at the scene late Friday morning by Madison County Deputy Coroner Bob Lewis. Both died of gunshot wounds.

According to witness, Honchak, who was a client at the center at 2615 Edwards St. in Alton, shot Miller several times while she was in her office, left the building and shot himself in a 1980 Mercury Sable on the parking lot.

The shootings occurred at about 10:30 a.m.

"He was walking in the line waiting for the medicine and as soon as he got the methadone and was doing drinking it, he walked into the program director's office and shot her," center client Elizabeth Hall said.

Methadone is a synthetic narcotic used to treat alcohol and morphine addicts. The drug blunts the withdrawal symptoms of addicts trying to be weaned from their habits.

Honchak, of the 3900 block of Park Lane in Pontoon Beach, was urged by alleged threats made by Miller and Honchak's counselor to throw him out of the methadone program, Inman said.

"He was having dirty urine tests and wasn't going by the rules," Inman said, referring to signs that Honchak was taking drugs other than the program.

"(Miller) had told him if he didn't straighten up, he was going to get kicked out of the program."

Honchak's parents, Frank and Iris, were reached at home but declined to speak to a reporter.

Counseling center Executive Director Kristine Gamm-Smith referred all questions to the Alton Police Department's Chief of Detectives Lt. William Fitzpatrick, said Gamm-Smith, who was unhappy with the way the methadone program was being dispensed.

The 38-year-old client, who had seen Honchak carrying a gun previously at the clinic and asked for anonymity, was at the center during the shooting and said Honchak was shot, Honchak cried in the center's hallway.

"He tried to kick open the door of (counselor) Terry Hall's office, but couldn't. He yelled something like, 'Get out here, punk,' then he went outside and drove away."

Honchak walked across a gravel lot to the Mercury Sable parked in another lot at the corner of Edwards and Main streets, got in the car and shot

Chairman or executive?

McGinness, others debate his proposal

By Bob Stale
Staff writer

Madison County residents served by Crown Cable television will have the opportunity Monday night to vote on a proposal to amend and change a referendum that could change the form of county government.

The question on the Nov. 8 ballot would ask voters to decide if they want to continue to have the county board chairman selected by county board members from among themselves every other year, or if county commissioners appointed by all county voters during a general election every four years.

A debate between two proponents and opponents of the proposed change will be televised at 7 p.m. Monday on cable television Channel 3. The debate, held Friday, was co-produced by

Drive hits the road, 6A

Crown Cable and the Edwardsville Intelligencer newspaper.

"Our forefathers established a government accountable to the people and with a very good reason," Ramsey said.

Frampton countered that, under the current system, the chairman is "doubly accountable" — first he must be elected within his district and then elected as chairman of the county board. He said that a county executive would have too much power, including veto power and control of a seat on the budget, that is currently handled in larger part by County Board committees.

McGinness said that the county board would have power to override a veto by the executive.

Textbook example

O.J. Simpson case headed for books, professors say

The case of O.J. Simpson could become a textbook example of one that goes straight from courtroom to classroom.

"This case certainly gives us fuel for teaching," said John Vollmer, the head of Lewis and Clark Community College's criminal justice division.

The big question, Vollmer said, is whether Los Angeles detectives were within their legal rights when they went onto Simpson's property without first getting a search warrant.

Angeles Detective Mark Fuhrman said he leaned the fence surrounding the property after finding blood on Simpson's white Ford Bronco, which was parked on the street.

Fuhrman said he and other officers went onto the property only to make sure someone wasn't living in there.

Simpson's defense team said the officers went there to search and should have waited for a judge to issue a search warrant.

The judge overseeing Simpson's preliminary hearing denied the defense attorney's motion to suppress evidence officers found before a search warrant was issued. That evidence included several blood spots on Simpson's driveway and a bloody glove that matched one found at the crime scene.

"It's probably a case that will be used on what that we do in (searches) since they just barely squeaked through," said another LCCC instructor, attorney John Delaney.

Simpson is charged with two counts of first-degree murder for the stabbing deaths of his former wife, Nicole Brown Simpson, 35, and Ronald Gold man, 25.

Vollmer said the case is a good example of how recent decisions at a crime scene can affect a case.

"It shows the importance of what police do on the street and the impact the decisions can make," Vollmer said.

Delaney and Vollmer said the exact lessons won't be learned for a while. "We won't know fully what it will be an example of until it plays out," Delaney said. "And this one will probably hit the U.S. Supreme Court."

Madison County State's Attorney William Haine, who said he agrees with the judge's ruling in the Simpson case, said he won't be preaching to the officers in his jurisdiction.

"The officers here are aware through previous cases from my office and court decisions of what the boundaries (of search and seizure) are."

Still, the question of whether the officers violated the Fourth Amendment protection against unreasonable search and seizure may lead to interesting conversation, he said. "It's going to be an interesting education for everyone," Haine said. "Because of this case people will see how careful the criminal justice system is in protecting the rights of a fair trial."

Public defender is re-appointed

Chief Judge Edward C. Ferguson announced the re-appointment of public defender John Rekowski for one year term coming.

In making the announcement, Ferguson said, "John Rekowski was the unanimous choice of the Circuit Judges. We have been fortunate to have him with the function of his office during his tenure as Public Defender."

Rekowski was first appointed to head the Public Defender's office. The office has a staff of nine attorneys, two secretaries and an investigator and operates with an annual budget of $432,952, which includes a special federal drug grant. During the past year the office handled almost 2,000 felonies, 500 juvenile matters, and 10,000 traffic and misdemeanor cases.

Rekowski graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and went on to receive his Juris Doctor, cum laude, from St. Louis University in 1979. He served as an associate public defender for Madison County from his admission to the bar until his appointment as Chief Public Defender in 1985.

He is also engaged in a wide-ranging private practice in Collinsville in the firm of Rekowski and Associates. In 1986, he joined the Board of Directors of the Illinois Public Defender Association and assumed presidency of that organization in 1991, a position he still holds.

Doctor's fraud trial set for September

A federal fraud trial against Alton Doctors Clinic founder Dr. Thomas Bruce Vest Sr. has been set for Sept. 12 in East St. Louis. And a disciplinary hearing on charges of brought against Vest's license nearly four years ago has been postponed until the federal charges are resolved.

The latest Department of Professional Regulation hearing on the disciplinary complaints had been scheduled for Wednesday, but spokesman Tony Sanders said, "We were prevented from proceeding until the federal case was finished."

Sanders and Assistant U.S. Attorney Thomas Daly said they were under the impression that a Madison County judge had been involved in setting the disciplinary case hearing, but the Madison County Circuit Clerk's Office did not find a record of any such order.

Vest is representing himself in the federal case.

Federal Regulation officials said some previously issued discipline hearings had been canceled because Vest had kept changing attorneys, requiring more time for each to prepare.

The department first alleged in November 1992 that Vest was submitting patients to unnecessary medical procedures and was "taking unfair advantage of a patient's vulnerability for financial gain."

It had sought to suspend or he serve on the Data Advisory Committee of the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority, appointed by the Appellate Court to the Board of Commissioners of Illinois Appellate Defender's Office.

As a member of the American, Illinois State and Madison County Bar Associations, the Illinois Attorneys for Criminal Justice and Illinois Public Defender Association, he has testified on legislative bills before the General Assembly and lectured at various legal education seminars.

Rekowski and his wife Carol reside in Glen Carbon with their two children, Jean and Elizabeth.

He also has a son, Michael, and a daughter, Jennifer, both of whom are married and have children of their own.

National Steel reports $900,000 quarter income

By Bob Slatte
Staff writer

National Steel Corp., owner of Granite City Steel, reported Wednesday that second-quarter 1994 net income was $900,000.

The net gain is viewed as especially significant in light of a net loss of $17.4 million during the same period last year.

For the first half of 1994, net income was $1.1 million compared to a net loss of $27.6 million for the same period in 1993.

A first-quarter gain this year included $10.9 million related to the steel plant's expansion.

When that figure is excluded, National Steel lost $9.4 million on an operating basis in the first half of 1994. That still compares favorably to an operating loss of $40.9 million incurred during the first six months of 1993.

V. John Goodwin, who was appointed president of National Steel in June, attributed the improvements to reduced costs, improved sales and continued operations improvements.

He also said settlement of a nearly year-long labor dispute bodes well for the company's future.

National's man-hours per ton shipped, a key indicator of productivity, decreased 5 percent in the second quarter compared to the first quarter, he said.

In addition, record caster production was set in May at the Great Lakes Division near Detroit, and yield performance at the Midwest Division near Chicago improved significantly, Goodwin said.

Double G Coatings, the company's joint-venture facility targeting the construction market, commenced operations May 1.

The plant is expected to reach full production by the end of the year.

Sales in the second quarter totalled $690.7 million, 4.5 percent more than the $622.7 million during the same period last year.

Net revenues for the period rose to $1.27 billion, 5.2 percent more than the $1.21 billion reported for the first half of

Costs were lower in the second quarter, it was reported. Scrap prices were about 10 percent below their first-quarter level and energy prices also fell.

Goodwin said successful discussions between the United Steelworkers of America Local 2660, which led to the recent decision to reopen the shuttered National Steel Plant, are considered an initial step toward revitalizing the cooperative partnership that had existed between the company and the union since the 1986 labor agreement.

The idled taconite mining and pelletizing complex in Keweenaw, Minn., is slated to reopen in August. National has committed to invest up to $8 million in the pellet facility over the next five years, said Robert M. Greer, senior vice president and chief financial officer of National Steel.

"We believe that a substantial reduction in costs will be achieved through this investment," Greer said.

Woman misses big one, wins $3,100

By Hiley Schulte
Staff writer

She didn't get rich, but she got a free vacation and she appeared on television.

Donna Huffman of Granite City appeared on the July 2 edition of "The Price Is Right."

She won $3,100, but not the big $100,000 or the car. That's OK with her, though. She's just happy she got the "more or less free trip."

Donna appeared on an Illinois State Lottery TV show after she sent in a winning instant ticket and it was picked at random. "When I sent it in, I didn't think anything of it," she said.

The next thing she knew, "$100,000 Fortune Hunt" called her and congratulated her for guaranteeing her $1,500 if she appeared on the show. "My husband said, 'Oh, let's go,'" she recalled.

She and her husband, Joe, had never been to Chicago in early June for the taping of the show.

The show put the couple in a lakefront motel, provided meals and even picked them up for the broadcast in a limousine.

"They made me feel at the show. I didn't think they would do that," said Donna.

She explained that there were six rounds and six contestants, one of which was the winner of the previous game. The game, Donna said, is similar to "Wheel of Fortune" in that "you pick a number and a girl turns it around."

The front and back half of a car also appear in the number choices somewhere, and if a contestant gets both, he or she wins an automobile.

At the end of Donna's game, no one had won yet. But she did win, a little bit anyway. Donna had racked up $3,100, and she got to keep it. "I need a car, so I put the money into that," she said.

Donna also noted that some of the money goes to taxes. A state tax of $92 was already taken out, and the rest went to charity.

One hundred thousand dollars or not, she is glad she went. "It was something to do on vacation. We enjoyed it," she said.

The Huffmans have a son and a daughter, both of Granite City. Rockelle works at Granite City Steel Foundries. Donna also is proud of her 20-month-old "grandbaby," Madalan.

The name of the game show has since been changed to "The Price Is Right."

Contestants can now win up to $250,000 or more. It airs every Saturday at 6:30 p.m. on WGN-TV in Chicago (Cable Channel 12).

MCT endorses MetroLink tax; officials seek extension here

By Hiley Schulte
Staff writer

MetroLink may someday run through Madison County if Nelson Hagnauer has his way.

Hagnauer got the ball rolling with a motion at the regular Madison County Transit Board of Trustees meeting Thursday, July 28.

Several years ago, when Metro Link was in the planning stages, then-mayor Tom Sturges said he doubted that he would live to see the day when the mass transit passed through Madison County.

But a recent success of light rail has changed that view for current board members.

Hagnauer simply made a motion to inquire about the possibility of running MetroLink to Madison County, maybe using Amtrack tracks. The board unanimously agreed, and Tom Sturges of Bi-State Development Agency said he would take the request to his board.

In a related matter, Sturges said that Tuesday, July 2, is a "winning day" for Proposition M, which would allow a quarter-cent transportation sales tax in St. Louis City and County to help fund MetroLink.

"We are cautiously optimistic that (Proposition M) will pass. Both the city and county must approve it, and if they don't, we can't take another vote for a year," Sturges stated.

The Transit Board unanimously passed a resolution endorsing the tax hike in Missouri.

While the board in the past was neutral to endorse MetroLink because of the possible threat to bus transportation on this side of the river, the recent overwhelming success of the轻轨 system has changed that.

MetroLink will celebrate its first anniversary July 31, and free rides will be provided.

In an unrelated matter, Jerry Kane, Madison County Transit director, reported that bids for the Ridefinders program will tentatively be opened Aug. 8. He said 99 percent of the program is funded by the federal government.

Finally, two resolutions passed concerning contracts. One authorizes the transit chairman or vice chairman to execute contracts providing service to Collinsville, Granite City and Operation Helping Hand in Ft. Russell.

The other authorizes the chairman or vice chairman to accept grant money from the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Sturges also announced that from July 1 to Sept. 1, 1994, the Bi-State Development Agency carried 653,730 passengers. About 338,000 were carried by MetroLink, and the others were transported through the bus system.

On July 8, the American Public Transportation Association presented Bi-State with the Man-

Battle of Bulge 50th anniversary events planned

Dec. 16, 1994, marks the 50th anniversary of the beginning of America's greatest land battle — the Battle of the Bulge.

The battle took place from Dec. 16, 1944, through Jan. 25, 1945, in the bitter cold and snow of the heavily-forested Ardennes Forest of Belgium and Luxembourg.

More than one million young men took part in this bloody World War II battle — 600,000 of them American. There were 81,000 American casualties, including 19,000 killed.

Those who fought and survived the Battle of the Bulge will never forget. Those who sacrificed their lives will be remembered.

by survivors and others Dec. 16, 1994, with memorial services at the St. Louis Memorial Military Museum in St. Louis. The USA World War II Commemoration Committee has designated St. Louis as the site for the "Great Commemoration" of the 50th Anniversary of the Battle of the Bulge.

World group elects Weston

A Granite City man has been named executive vice president of an international association.

Kevin Weston, vice president of internal audit for Cass Commer, Inc. Corp., a local and national retail chain of Granite City, has been elected Information Systems Audit and Control Association executive vice-president, membership, for 1994-95.

The announcement was made in June at the association's 1994 annual general meeting in London, United Kingdom.

Weston brings to his new volunteer position experience gleaned from his term as regional vice president and assistant vice president.

He has been a member of the association for eight years, and has been an active member of the St. Louis chapter, serving as president, vice-president and certified information systems auditor (CISA) coordinator.

The association provides membership services related to achieving its goals of advancing the education, professional knowledge and technical skills of its members.

This year, the Information Systems Audit and Control Association celebrates its silver jubilee anniversary as a worldwide professional organization.

Founded in 1969 as the EDP-Auditors Association, the organization in July 1994 changed its name to better reflect its membership and scope for the future.

The Information Systems Audit and Control Association has evolved into a global organization—the only worldwide organization solely dedicated to the information systems audit and control profession.

The association is organized in 10 regions, with 134 chapters in 58 countries. Almost half of its members live and work outside the United States in Canada, Australia, Japan and Europe. Its members serve diverse organizations in business, industry and government.

Among its diverse activities, the association offers the Certified Information Systems Auditor (CISA) certification, sponsors conferences and seminars with continuing-education courses throughout the world, conducts and publishes research in the field, communicates through several publications to its members and to the profession, and promulgates professional standards.

Financial planning is a must for everyone

This begins a series of articles called "Making Sense of Your Money." It is intended to serve as a general guideline focusing on fundamental financial principles that are beneficial to those who are informed readers.

Financial planning is a must for everyone, young and old, single or married, with or without children. You do not need to be rich to benefit from the benefits of financial planning.

All one needs is to be willing to focus on his current financial condition and compare it with current and future expectations and objectives.

Many people find talking about their personal financial objectives difficult, even though they spend many of their waking hours discussing their concerns with themselves about their financial condition. Since worrying about money is unproductive and self-defeating, our most productive and satisfying option is to learn all you about financial planning.

Like a good road map, a successful financial plan can help you determine where you want to go and how to get there even if you make a few investment mistakes along the way.

Brian

Our country is in somewhat of a financial mess right now, primarily because we have become victims of spenders. For example, the personal savings rate, which measures the amount of income individuals save for their future, was about 8 per cent of what it was 20 years ago. In 1974 it was 9 per cent, where today it stands at 5 per cent.

Whether you are single, married, with children, or whatever, start saving now. As you go along, you can worry about being sophisticated in your investments.

Think of investing as a long-term hobby. The key for building the pyramid lies in establishing a solid foundation first.

Also, once moves up the pyramid, one can move into higher risk investments.

Try drawing your own financial pyramid and dividing it into four parts:

1. Liquid Foundation (savings, CD's, Treasury Bills, money market accounts, life insurance) cash value).

2. Secure (municipal bonds, U.S. savings bonds, income stocks, high quality corporate bonds, fixed annuities).

3. Growth (blue chip stocks, growth mutual funds, investment real estate, variable annuities, international mutual funds).

4. Speculative (commodities, art, gold/silver, coins, exploration).

The younger you are, the more imperative it is for you to start saving early and regularly.

There is no question that you indeed are in competition of your earnings, which you will eventually pay for it. Your spending will mean adjusting to a lower standard of living than you find desirable.

The longer you wait, the more inflation will erode your future spending power.

Next week's article will address getting organized by determining where you stand financially, putting records in order, and setting financial objectives.

A Mammogram: A Picture That Could Save Your Life

One in nine women will develop breast cancer at some point in her life, but mammography can help you beat the odds.

If someone told you that simply having your picture taken could save your life, would you do it? Of course. A mammogram, which can detect breast cancer in its earliest stages, is just that -- a picture -- an x-ray of the breast that can save your life.

Memorial's Mammography Center offers state-of-the-art diagnostic equipment and skilled personnel for complete screening services and test interpretation by board-certified radiologists in a private, comfortable and convenient setting. Memorial's program is accredited by the American College of Radiology and recognized by the American Cancer Society as an ACR-accredited facility. This means Memorial's Mammography Center maintains the healthcare industry's most recognized accreditation for consistently following strict guidelines for low-dose, high-image quality.

Don't fear the results of a mammogram. With today's effective treatment options, up to 90 percent of women with breast cancer can beat the odds when it is found and treated early.

For an appointment or more information about this cost-effective, life-saving exam, call Memorial's Mammography Center at 233-7750, extension 5065.

Financial planning is a must for everyone with a minimum of unforeseen, untimely, and costly detours.

Successful financial planning requires attention to a variety of areas, including: planning to meet financial objectives, organizing financial resources, using credit effectively, saving, acquiring and investing those savings wisely, accumulating enough assets to meet lifelong needs, minimizing income taxes, planning to retire comfortably and securely, and preparing an appropriate estate plan.

Do not make the mistake too many people make. They are so named by the thought of making a poor return on their savings that they fail to save at all. If you save money on a regular basis over a long period of time, you will have money to invest later in life.

Investing is important because the key for building the pyramid lies in establishing a solid foundation first.

Also, once moves up the pyramid, one can move into higher risk investments.

Try drawing your own financial pyramid and dividing it into four parts:

1. Liquid Foundation (savings, CD's, Treasury Bills, money market accounts, life insurance) cash value).

2. Secure (municipal bonds, U.S. savings bonds, income stocks, high quality corporate bonds, fixed annuities).

3. Growth (blue chip stocks, growth mutual funds, investment real estate, variable annuities, international mutual funds).

4. Speculative (commodities, art, gold/silver, coins, exploration).

The younger you are, the more imperative it is for you to start saving early and regularly.

There is no question that you indeed are in competition of your earnings, which you will eventually pay for it. Your spending will mean adjusting to a lower standard of living than you find desirable.

The longer you wait, the more inflation will erode your future spending power.

Next week's article will address getting organized by determining where you stand financially, putting records in order, and setting financial objectives.

'Savings-exempt' income tax urged

By Roger McGrath
Correspondent

Switching from the income tax — which punishes savers and investors — to a consumption tax, which encourages saving, would not be that difficult, economist Murray Weidenbaum says.

It would merely require amending the Form 1040, adding a section where savers could claim the amount we'd saved during the past year, he said.

In short, the portion of income that is saved could be exempt from taxation, said Weidenbaum, professor of economics at Washington University.

You are the more you start to save, the better off you will be in the long run.

The article will be reprinted by the Granite City Sunday Journal on Aug. 13.

Switching to a "savings-exempt income tax," the descriptor preferred by the senators, would generate more revenue for the U.S. treasury, because such a tax system encourages more saving to finance additional investments in a growing economy, Weidenbaum said.

Economic growth is directly related to a society's rate of savings, Weidenbaum said.

effort is nonproductive and raises unrealistic expectations. It's just a public relations campaign by Public Aid," Madison County State's Attorney William Haine said.

Haine's assistant in charge of child support enforcement efforts, Colleen Cadigan, said she has been able to find seven of the 10 families from Madison County on the Public Aid list.

However, being able to collect is "probably less promising," she said.

Cadigan said one of the 10 was found in a federal prison medical facility; another is a fugitive from several felony warrants and "has about 15 aliases." Another is living in Williamson county where child support case has been transferred.

As for the Public Aid "most wanted" list, Haine said, "it probably makes people feel good... but in itself it doesn't do a thing for getting money to women who need it."

Water baptism set for pool

Harvest Assembly of Pontoon Beach will be holding an evening of "praise in the park" on Sunday, July 31, at 6 p.m. in Wilson Park.

There will be praise and worship, special music, and a drama at the park above the old swimming pool deck room.

Following the service, Pastor Roy A. Boyer at 8:15 p.m. will baptize approximately 30 candidates in the new Wilson Park pool.

Harvest Assembly is now in the first part of a multi-phase building program. At this point, the church does not have facilities for baptisms.

Boyer said, "For years, people have been baptizing in rivers, lakes and creeks. When we think of a swimming pool, we think of fun and relaxation. We could be more fun than witnessing a testimony of a re-creation of the heart — the outward sign of an inward work."

For more information on the service, persons may contact the church office at 931-2500. Harvest Assembly is located at 4598 Highway 162, near Interstate 255.

2nd session of swim lessons set

The Granite City Park District will begin taking registration for a second session of youth swimming lessons on Tuesday, Aug. 2, at 9 a.m. at the Wilson Park office.

Registrants must show proof of residency in the park district. The lessons will be held between 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. on Aug. 8.

Three levels are available for the lessons. They are beginner, intermediate and advanced. Depending on the level, an exact time will be assigned.

The minimum age requirement is five years old.

For park residents, the cost is $10; for non-residents, $15. Park residents will be given first priority. Non-resident participants will be placed on a waiting list.

Senior trip to game on Aug. '25

The Granite City Park District will sponsor its third trip to Busch Stadium for senior citizens. Aug. 25, 1994, 7:35 p.m.

The Cardinals will be playing the Cincinnati Reds.

The cost of the trip will be $10 per person. This includes the cost of a reserved seat for the game and bus transportation to and from the game.

The bus will leave from the Wilson Park Ice Rink at 6 p.m. with a return at 11:30 p.m. Aug. 24. Residents will have first priority for tickets, but non-residents may call the office after Aug. 14 to see if tickets are available to be purchased.

For further information, the Wilson Park office can be called at 877-3059.

Grilled roast beef sandwich: Provolone cheese (optional).

Several slices of lean roast beef.

Two slices of large sourdough bread.

Butter.

Parmesan cheese.

Inside dressing: a mixture of mayonnaise and mustard.

Cream cheese.

Butter bread on outside and sprinkle heavily with parmesan cheese.

Lay first piece of bread in skin side, butter side down.

Spread dressing on face-up side with mayo mixture.

Lay roast beef on top and then add provolone cheese (optional).

Top with second slice of bread prepared same as first slice and reserved for only one hour.

Madison High School's graduating class of 1985 will hold its first meeting Aug. 4 to begin planning a 10-year reunion.

Many of the graduates have moved out of the area and the first few meetings will serve to reunite individuals with one another, discuss possible reunions and select a committee.

Robin (Brown) Grotz, class president, said the first meeting will be held at the Venice Senior Citizens Center, Brown and Kildare streets, at 7 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 4. She requests that no one be late, since the center is reserved for only one hour.

The Madison Junior Service

held its 60th annual installation of officers at Ravanelly's. The welcome was given by Charlene Voloski and the invocation by Anna Roseman.

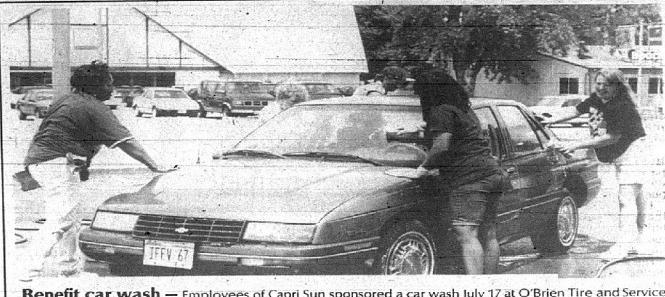

After dinner, a review of the club's activities for 1993-94 was given by Christine Lasbury. A charity report was given by Roberta Crawford and the point report and awards were given by Karen McIlroy.

Installation of new members and officers was conducted by Sandra Barnett, Anna Roseman and Charlene Voloski.

The club pledge was read in unison by all members.

Officers for 1994-95 are President Sandra Barnett, First Vice President Karen McIlroy, Second Vice President Dorothy Hatfield, Secretary Christine Lasbury and Treasurer Roberta Crawford.

Trustees were Sandy Barnett, Anna Roseman and Charlene Voloski. The club sponsor is Little Dells. Secret pal gifts were exchanged and prizes were awarded.

Benefit car wash — Employees of Capri Sun sponsored a car wash July 17 at O'Brien Tire and Service Station, Nameoki and Pontoon roads, to benefit the Tri-Cities Area United Way. Fourteen employees and their family members participated in the car wash, which raised funds over and above the more than $20,000 Capri Sun employees have pledged to the United Way through payroll deductions. Kraft General Foods, Capri Sun's parent company, also contributed a corporate gift to help support the local programs and services provided by health and human care programs funded by the United Way. Pictured on the left side, front to back, are Mary Crogier, Carrie Colburn and Dan Gaines. On the right side, front to back, are Alice Jones and Cindy Gaines.

Post 7451 is reaching for the sky'

Madison Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7451 is "reaching for the sky" again for the 1994-95 membership year.

Last year the post attained "All-State" status for its efforts. This year it is reaching for the coveted "All-American" status. The only way this can be done is to acquire new members.

The post is sponsoring the 12th District Department of Illinois membership kickoff breakfast which will be held at the post home, 1414 Seven Hills Boulevard, from 9:30 a.m. to noon Aug. 7.

If you are a veteran of any foreign war, World War I, World War II, Korea, Vietnam or Desert Storm, and received one of the following campaign medals, bring a copy of your DD Form 214 or discharge paperwork to the breakfast and join that patriotic veterans organization.

The campaign medals are:

- Navy Expeditionary Medal;
- Mexican Service Medal;
- World War I Victory Medal;
- Asiatic-Pacific Medal;
- Occupation Medal (Germany 1918-1923);
- China Service Medal;
- American Defense Service Medal;
- American Campaign Medal;
- Asiatic-Pacific Campaign;
- European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign Medal;
- Army of Occupation Medal (Italy 1943-1945; Germany 1945-1955; Berlin, 1945-1950; Austria, 1945-1949; Korea, 1945-1949 and Japan 1945-1952);
- Navy Occupation Service Medal;
- Korean Service Medal;
- Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal for Berlin, Lebanon, Chonmoy and Matsuo Islands, Taiwan Straits, Malaya, Laos, Vietnam, Thailand, Dominican Republic, Korea, Cambodia, the Mayaguez Operation and Granada Operation;
- Navy and Marine Corps Expeditionary Medal;
- Vietnam Service Medal;
- Combat Action Ribbon;
- And Southwest Asia Service Medal.

Madison VFW installs officers

During recent ceremonies, the officers of Madison Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7451 for the 1994-95 year were installed at the post home located at 1414 Seventh St., Madison.

In addition to the officers, there were numerous dignitaries from all levels of the VFW of the United States, as well as Congressman Jerry Costello, the guest speaker.

The Madison VFW Post 7451 has been in existence since August 1956. Since that time, the post has more than tripled in size and continues to support the Quad-City area through community service projects and donations for the needy veterans of the area.

For more information on the post, contact any of the officers or call the post at 452-1246 between the hours of 6 a.m. and 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday or Saturday.

Twins — or more — need not cause panic

By Jane Cosby
Correspondent

Those of us who had our babies at one time look at those parents who have two or more at once with awe and suspicion.

Awe at the fact that they could handle more than one baby at a time and suspicion that maybe they know something we don't that made the baby-juggling possible.

But in a new book, "The Joy of Twins and Other Multiple Births," by Pamela Patrick Novotny (Crown Publishing, $16) reveals the secrets of taking care of multiples in a juggling act.

The advice in the book is offered in very short segments so parents of multiples can read the book in short snippets of time that become infrequently available to them.

Reading the book reveals no great secrets, just common sense advice. Much of the advice is relevant for all new parents. Here are some common problems and Novotny's advice for dealing with them.

Finding Time
• Go to bed on time. It can be tempting to stay up late at night and spend time doing what you want. But you can lose a whole day by exhaustion by going to bed too late and then getting up too early.

• Figure out what time of day you are the most energetic, then make time for it. This is the time of day you may be able to squeeze in something special for yourself.

• Learn to say no to all non-essential activities and responsibilities.

• Decide how important a clean house is to you. See what activities you can make to take time spent on housecleaning.

• Television can be a great time waster. How much time do you spend watching and would you get more enjoyment spending that time doing something else?

Adjusting to Parenthood
• Find support among those people who share your beliefs and love for your babies.

• Take care of your body. Try to get some kind of exercise that is appropriate for you. Thirty minutes a day will help recharge your spiritual and emotional batteries.

• Learn to trust. Time passes, and the difficult moments you are facing now will pass, too.

Bringing Order to Your Chaos

• Develop a code of standards. Dealing with one baby or several is a self-fulfilling prophecy. If you are plagued with self-doubt and fear like a victim you will live with feelings of failure.

If you feel confident about your ability to handle the situation, you will feel competent and positive.

• Have clear expectations. Write down your priorities in life, and put them first. Know the priorities of your spouse, so you can be clear about each other's expectations of each other.

• Have a plan. Make a plan to achieve the priorities on your list, but keep it flexible. Plans always have to be adjusted to meet the needs of the babies.

The book is sprinkled with quotes from parents of multiples. The best advice for any parent comes from one of these quotes. This parent advises that the best thing a parent can do for his babies is to follow their own instincts.

Jane Cosby is a former teacher and the mother of two.

If you have any questions or have a specific topic you would like to see covered in this column, please write to ABCs for Parents, Sunbeam Journals, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63131.

40 attend Barnes family reunion

The Barnes family reunion was held June 25 at Wilson Park. Approximately 40 members of the family gathered from Missouri, Indiana, Oregon, Collier and Granite City. Present for the reunion were the oldest member, furthest traveled and family with the most members present.

Time was spent getting reacquainted, reminiscing and meeting new relatives.

A good time was had by all.

In addition to its collaboration on the Great American Main Street Awards program, Jones has worked with the Main Street Center in restoring economic vitality to many communities throughout the country via high-tech satellite network.

In the past year, Jones has broadcast downtown revitalization training seminars to community leaders throughout the country.

The Main Street Center is a program of the non-profit National Trust for Historic Preservation.

Working directly with almost 900 towns and cities, the Main Street Center helps to launch and expand downtown revitalization programs that are designed to generate an average of more than $22 in new, downtown investment for every dollar the communities use to support their efforts.

With this return on investment, the Main Street program is one of the most successful economic development strategies in the country.

Waterloo puts on fine all-star show

Rambling as the countdown continues to the start of another high school football season on Aug. 10 — if you can believe that!

Can you believe I sat with Whitey Herzog the other night in Waterloo and never took time to ask him which pitch was a baseball strike, loaded bats or what he'd do if he were the commissioner?

RAIN PREVAILED, and the last-laid plans of Vern Moehrs, the manager of the host Waterloo Buds of the Mon-Claire League, and his first lady, Lucille, got as far as the half inning of the all-star game July 20.

Thank you, Medina! Thank you, Herzog's friend Bill Schmidt, the extra touch to the all-star game helped attract a large crowd. Many of them returned Wednesday as the South beat the North.

The setting at Waterloo was something that may never occur again, since Vern and Lucille Moehrs have indicated this year will be their last as all-star hosts.

Since 1991, they have done such things as line up sponsors, umpires, attendees, prizes, programs and added the extras like having the Big Light Brigade entertain.

At a time when baseball seems to be losing its appeal nationally, Mon-Claire Post 365 of the All-American Legion have continued to provide an evening that is most attractive and costs less than a refreshment at Busch Stadium.

HERZOG WAS MOST OBLIGED to return to his roots (he's a native of New Athens) and not only sign the program and meet with friends, but provide autographed baseballs for attendance prizes. Still, there were others who volunteered that time.

Those included umpires Dennis Frech, Rick Keefe, Brent McGee and Dave Roseman; scorekeeper Frank Draude and flag raiser Henry Doerr.

OVERTIME: Mention of Herzog as a commissioner made me think of another sport in which this area also could have someone worthy of being a Commissioner.

My reference is to Bob Goaly of Granite City. He has replaced Dennis Bernier as commissioner of the Professional Golfers Association. I'll guarantee the name of Goaly would have been recognized far more nationally than that of new golf boss Tim Finchem.

Finchem, 47, is a legal hotshot from Virginia and was the PGA's deputy commissioner and chief operating officer for the past five years. But I wonder if he has the golf knowledge of Goaly or even considers Bob as a competitor.

While the recent PGA Nike Tour event at St. Louis generated local interest in the form of Jerry Haas and Frank Connor, one of the keepers of records in the 1994 PGA, the Presidents Cup Match set for Sept. 16-18 in Lake Manassas, Va.

FIELD DURING the Hardee's Classic at Coal Valley, Ill., the Presidents Cup will pit the top 10 USA money leaders, plus a choice of two players from Britain. Hale Irwin and oppose a team of the leading foreign players.

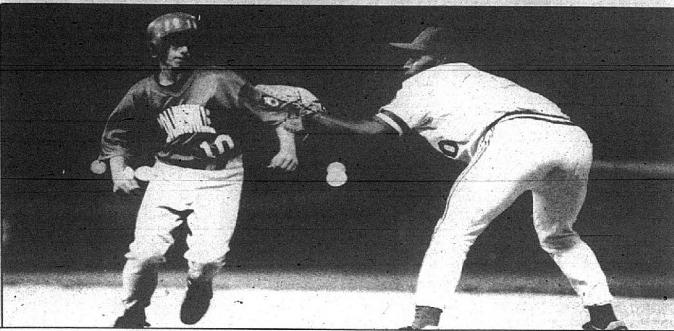

Of local interest is Jay Haas, who entered the PGA's Top Ten USA money leaders and was invited to the Buick Open in early June. With more than $300,000 in earnings this year, he could qualify for the Presidents Cup.

Tom Fazio won British Open over Open at Lytham, England. I got a kick out of a wire service report that referred to the Centralia pro as a "second-generation golfer."

Since Wirth is over the $400,000 mark in earnings and deserving of all he gets, but his golf game was spawned at places like the St. Louis Country Club in Ballwin, where he got to play against a pro like Goaly and an amateur like Louis "Turk" Gedda.

Tim Hogan is the baseball and soccer coach at O'Fallon High School. He writes a twice-weekly column for the Journal.

Late-season surge highlights Juniors' summer

Tri-City finishes fourth; McKeahan to step down

By Rob Raphael
Correspondent

One day does not make a season.

Those who entered the Tri-City Junior Triplets' 1994 season should take note of this fact. Even though Post 113 dropped a pair of games on July 24, finishing fourth in the District 22 playoffs, they can look back at a successful learning experience. They were not expected to have gone further in the playoffs, but that takes nothing away from what we accomplished during the year," said Tri-City manager Jerry McKeahan. "We had a very good year."

The Junior Triplets, under the tutelage of McKeahan and coach Chad Ligmon, had a good summer both collectively and individually.

AS A TEAM, the Junior Triplets had their ups and downs, but the annals will show a 15-9-1 record and a second-place finish in the North Division regular-season standings.

McKeahan said the team showed steady improvement throughout the season.

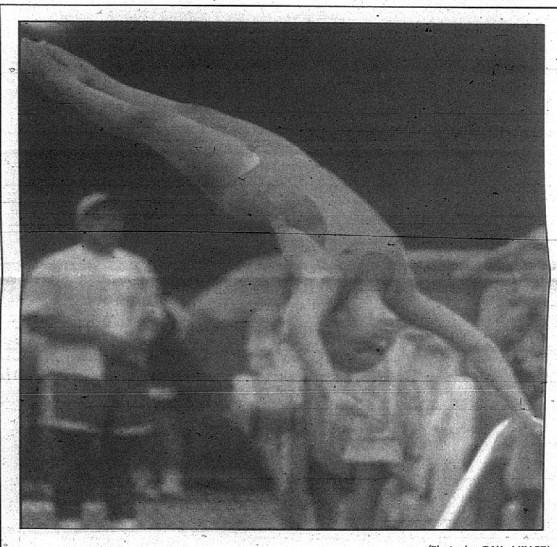

"I wouldn't say they were raw at the beginning of the year, but they did not play ball at Granite City High School — but we could see room for improvement," McKeahan said.

"By the end of the season, we were playing as a team, and we got on quite a roll."

Even though they placed fourth in the playoffs at Horpe Park in Edwardsville, the Juniors ran off a nine-game unbeaten streak and at one time they won five straight league games.

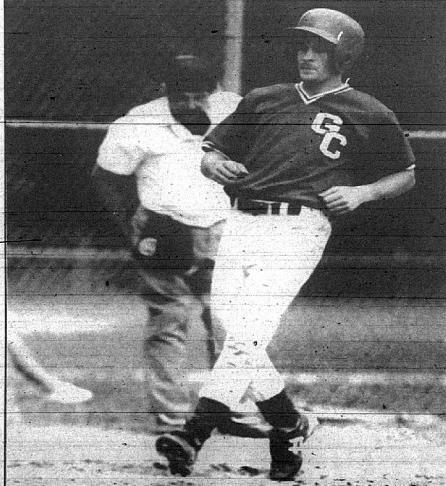

Individually, four of the Junior Triplets were named to the District 22 All-Star team. McKeahan, who coached third base for the North squad, said his players represented Post 113 well.

Bats carry No. 4 seed past Collinsville

By R.J. Gerber

Thin on pitching, Collinsville Post 365 manager Steve Helmckamp had a plan Thursday night to win the opening game of the District 22 North Division playoffs.

But Edwardsville Post 199, which dropped a 6-3 decision in Tuesday's first game, had its own idea and scored six times in the first inning to breeze to an 11-1 victory at Granite City's Varsity Field.

THE 10-RUN thrashing not only proved Helmckamp's strategy, it eliminated Collinsville from postseason play.

Edwardsville Post 199, seeded fourth in the week started, charged Collinsville after Virgil Stogner after only two-thirds of an inning and went on to the win, setting up the best-of-three

First-game win sends Post 365 to title game

By R.J. Gerber
Staff writer

Collinsville Post 365 stayed off elimination for a couple hours Thursday in the District 22 play-offs at Varsity Field.

Collinsville prolonged the play-offs and forced a deciding game by winning 6-3 in the opener.

After taking a lead, Post 365 lost its advantage when Edwardsville tied the game on an RBI double by Jesse Buggar in the top of the third. In the bottom of the ninth, a single by Virgil Stogner gave Collinsville its second lead of the game and it never looked back although Edwardsville tried to come back in the late innings.

Paul Helmckamp's two-run single in the bottom of the sixth inning iced the game for the lead team to end the first major.

Steve Connor kept Edwardsville off balance throughout the opener with his variety of breaking pitches. Connor went seven innings and allowed one earned run on six hits and three walks, while fanning three.

THAT EFFORT MADE Collinsville manager Steve Helmckamp confident going into the championship game.

"I thought we had a good chance; I felt good even though we ran out of pitching," Helmckamp said.

Post 365 was limited to four hits in the title game, but bunted out nine against three Edwardsville hurlers in its win. Helmckamp led the way by going 3-for-4 with three RBI.

South All-Stars hold off North 5-4

By Jim Bradley
Staff writer

For those who were willing to wait a week, the 28th annual Mon-Claire Baseball League All-Star Game in Waterloo on Wednesday was worth it.

The South Division held on to beat the North 5-4, with Waterloo manager Vern Moehrs his 15th victory in all-star game play against only three losses. It is the 19th time the South, or Monroe, Division had won the game.

"IT WAS A great game, wasn't it?" Moehrs said. "It was a different kind of game than we're used to seeing in the all-star game. It was more of a singles game instead of lots of home runs.

The crowd was great and I know they enjoyed it. The crowd tonight was as big as we had last week. Maybe this game is starting to catch on."

The crowd estimated at around 1,000 people was about from the outset. The only home run of the game came in the second inning when Granite City's Doug Duncanson led off with a shot to left field off Waterloo starter Larry Shirkles.

The 1-0 lead was the North's only edge of the game.

With one out in the bottom of the third, the Monroe County connection started the South rolling. Valmeyer's Tim Degener singled, Waterloo's Mike Wirth singled and John Wahlgren, also from Waterloo, singled and drove in the tying run.

JIM WAHLIG, WHO won his fifth all-star game MVP honor, doubled for the South's only run. He had a triple earlier. Wirth scored, but John Wahlgren was thrown out at the plate. Jim Wahlgren circled the bases when Granite City's Doug Duncanson led off with a shot to left field off Waterloo starter Larry Shirkles.

Horoscope

Sunday, July 31, 1994
The folks you grew up with have good news for the whole family: They've bought a computer, or perhaps they're going into business for themselves in anything. Surprise for you! Extend a helping hand wherever and whenever you can — luck lies in paying attention to intricate details. You may find money, bargains or big values, so keep your eyes open.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Relax, and let the future unfold. You find success in the form of an opportunity from a mentor or an original idea. You're capable of great things, and now is the time to try to achieve them.

TUSSUES (April 20-May 20). Extra attention from your family warms your heart. Friendship is as important to marriage as security, so let your mate show off on the trail (you'll be surprised you might learn something). An Aries has answers.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Being alone is not so bad; great ideas can come to you in the bathtub. Don't forget to jot your dreams in diary. A relationship that became entangled in passion will soon be freed and flying high.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Tolerance enables you to influence others without being too close to them. Never is good, and visitors may just have the gift you've been wishing for. If your spouse has to travel, be a good sport.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). New purchases of electronic gadgetry can add to your income — computer shopping comes up with bargains. Your health depends upon your diet habits. Doctors don't have all the answers.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Blue is your lucky color today. The impression you make at gatherings is important. Suddenly, your love life is like a sheet of paper.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22). A family member touches your heart with a quiet show of affection. Put a fire in the heart of your romantic prospect or special one with your own show of consideration and tenderness. Consider the fun factor.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21). Partnerships can be very rewarding, but do some compromising now and later in the week. Your turn to be the controller. The evening brings quiet time with your lover or best buddy. Get enough rest.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 20). Enjoy completing the repairs, and cleaning chores you've been putting off. Classified ads may be useful for updating your tool supply. The evening is good for pampering yourself.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Exciting possibilities await you. You may travel to see your spouse's family — or just for the adventure. Now is a good time to purchase a home computer or software. Moderate exercise is great for relaxation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Bittersweet may be the flavor of Mom's cooking today. You're in the long run, however, strong and getting your home in shape — in the days ahead, your home is a lucky spot for thinking and meeting with others.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). An old relationship leads to a new one — express your needs more directly if you want your family or a lover to understand.

The evening is good for pampering

The week ahead holds surprises from colleagues — you have more influence than you think.
